

WEDDINGS GALORE TODAY

Virginia Lee
Becomes Bride
This Evening

Miss Virginia Lee, daughter of Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, of Virginia, will be married this evening at 8:30 o'clock to Lieut. John Carter Montgomery, of the Seventh Cavalry, U. S. A. The ceremony will be performed in historic Christ Church, in Alexandria, made dear to the hearts of the American people because George and Martha Washington and Gen. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee and all their family worshipped there, and where their pews are still reverently preserved.

The bride will be attended by Miss Louise Jones, of Norfolk, maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Newton Williams, Miss Mildred Woodward, both of Richmond; Miss Julia Downer, of Norfolk; Miss Margaret Patterson, of Baltimore; Miss Virginia Beall Daininger, of Alexandria; and Miss Geraldine Taylor, of Alexandria.

Lieutenant Montgomery will have as his best man Lieutenant Blair, and the ushers will be Lieutenant Caldwell, Lieutenant Blair, and Lieutenant Pearson, of the Seventh Cavalry; Lieutenant Campbell, of the Tenth Cavalry; Lieut. U. S. Grant, third, and Lieutenant Tyler, of the Engineer Corps.

The bride will enter the church with her brother, Capt. Fitzhugh Lee, until recently one of the military aides in the White House, who will give her in marriage. She will wear a gown of embroidered pink cloth, in designs of sweet peas, which she brought with her from the Orient last summer, with tulle and over muslin, and a coronet of white sweet peas, and she will carry a shower of white sweet peas. Miss Jones, as maid of honor, will wear yellow crepe de chine and carry huge bunches of golden rod, and the bridesmaids will wear white silk muile with yellow girdles and wreaths of yellow roses in their hair, and carry golden rod. The decorations in the quaint church will be in keeping with the color scheme of the brides' gowns, in compliment to the cavalry colors, golden rod and pinks being most prominent.

The Rev. Mr. Morton, rector of Christ Church, will perform the ceremony, after which a reception will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Greene, with whom Mrs. Lee and her daughter have been staying for some weeks. After the reception the bride and bridegroom will leave for a trip in the North, after which they will go to the bridegroom's post of duty at Fort Riley, Kan., where they will be met by relatives and friends already. Miss Lee is the youngest of the Lee family, and will be the third daughter of the late Gen. Robert E. Lee, the son of the house is also an officer of that regiment.

Mrs. Lee's two other daughters are Mrs. Rhea, formerly Miss Ellen Lee, wife of Captain Rhea, now at Fort Leavenworth, and Mrs. Mary Lee, formerly Miss Annie Fitzhugh Lee, wife of Lieut. Annie Brown, now at Fort Riley.

Lieutenant Montgomery is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery, of Elizabethtown, N. Y. Montgomery, of New York, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, are guests at the New Willard for the week, and will attend the wedding.

Miss Seitz Married.

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the rectory of St. Mary's German Catholic Church, the participants being Samuel A. Pearl, of New York, and Miss Mamie E. Seitz, of this city. The Rev. F. A. Wunnenberg, pastor, officiated. The bride was dressed in a handsome gray voile over silk, with hat and gloves to match. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The sister of the bride, Miss Lottie Seitz, was bridesmaid, and wore champagne voile over silk, with a picture hat. She carried a bouquet of carnations. Dr. John Ferry acted as best man.

Clear-Pate Nuptials.

Miss Viola Lueria Pate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pate, of 1120 Monroe street, and Milton Gregg Clear were married this afternoon at 2:30 in the Mt. Pleasant Congregational Church. Palms and ferns formed the decorations around the chancel, and the wedding music was played by Prof. Cheney. The Rev. Ross Fishburn, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. The bride, who entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage, wore a modish costume of gray chiffon over cloth, with hat, gloves, and shoes to correspond, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Ethel May Pate was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a gown of soft white silk made princess, with a picture hat. She had as her best man her cousin, Thomas Dyer, and the ushers, who seated the guests and led the bridal procession to the altar, were Thomas R. Heath, J. Vinson McKenzie, A. Neil Lamont, Earle Goodman, George A. Myers, and G. Rex Frye.

There was no reception following the ceremony. Mrs. Pate, mother of the bride, having entertained the bridal party at an informal reception in her home Friday evening.

Pleasing News

The appointment of former minister from China, Wu Ting-fang, as minister at his post again, will bring back to Washington one of the most picturesque, progressive, and interesting figures in Washington diplomatic society, Little Mme. Wu Ting-fang, who left a large acquaintance and many friends behind her when she bid farewell here several years ago. She was one of the very few women from the Orient who had any chance to see Washington society, all former representatives of those lands either leaving their wives at home, or following the custom prevailing in their own country, of keeping the women in close seclusion.

Mme. Wu, however, made visits with her husband, and went about freely, to the theaters and to receptions. She held her own receptions every week, and made many friends by her simplicity, quaintness, and unconcealed desire to become familiar with American customs. She greatly admired American women and their clothes, but never deviated a hair's breadth from the manner of dressing in the flowery kingdom. Luke M. White, of Warsaw, Va., officiating.

J.; Miss Margaret Tucker, of Richmond; John Lloyd, of Lynchburg; Miss Lella Tucker, of Washington; and Howard, and Richard Washington, of Alexandria, Va., and Miss Peachy Washington, of Charles Town, W. The Millinery problem will always remain a problem because so many think themselves milliners when they are not. The late openings have demonstrated this. Some most laughable burlesques of hats have been praised to the skies in advertisements. Luckily for these burlesque milliners there are wearers who know as little as they.

A Times Hat
The Times' Woman Page is evidently edited by a born artist. The hat, as illustrated above, is a Times suggestion, and is indorsed by the Palais Royal Millinery Chief.

Made to Order, $7.50

A made-up sample will be here and the visitor can order a similar hat in any color she desires, or, it can be made up with variations to suit the fancy of the wearer. Note that a half hundred other styles of trimmed hats are here at $7.50, ready to wear, or will be made to suit the visitor's personality.
